Ok, let's meet at 11am.

I think there are many beautiful places in NY...I've never been to the highest building of NY you was talking about, I guess it have to be great view there! At least, I'm here only for a month yet, so I think there are many interesting places I don't know about))

Great! I can meet you there at 11am if that is not too early for you. Yes, the Museum of Natural History is such an interesting place. I've been here in New York for six years now but I've only been to the museum two times since I've been here.

Is there anything else you would want to do as well?

I would go with pleasure, thank you!) As I remember, he told u about the museum of national history, right? And how long are you here in NY? You know it well already?

Hi Karina!

It's great to hear from you. My teeth are feeling super clean. Thanks for your gentle touch. :)

Would you be interested in seeing the city with me next Saturday, August 8th? We could go see the museum Dr. Malik was talking about....what do you think?

Jeremy
