The mirror place said Tom was going to try and source the mirror mastic locally. I'm assuming that you couldn't find locally? Should I proceed in having them ship 2 more cases of mirror mastic?

Good Morning [REDACTED],
Do you still need is to ship to more cases of mirror mastic? The one case should be plenty enough. I did speak with Tom (the architect) and he did mention he was going to try the local home depot and haven't heard from him since. If we ship two more cases the cost is actually going to be around $205 which does not include the price for the mastic. My suggestion would be to see if there is anything locally that would be able to provide mirror adhesive although I do know it is very limited in the VI. Please let me know what you would like to do.
Thank you!

Hello again,
There wasn't enough glue sent down for the mirrors. They are asking for 2 more cases. I'm not sure how large or heavy this would be to determine the best way of getting it to St.Thomas?
