This is the photo I'm fashioning 10B bedroom after. JE likes it all. I'm going with the Wyatt high headboard in the stock color, the Copenhagen dresser and side tables in white (there are several sizes and configurations for the dressers and a few sizes for side tables. I think I need to have you measure it out to tell me which size side table is best and which dresser. I'm also going to get the walnut color wooden frames on the wall as the accent. So, I'm thinking the white wood floors (depending what he thinks) light gray walls. I think we should choose a color close to the gray of the headboard, the white furniture, white side chair (he chose white, although I think it maybe should be charcoal) and the rug is the Onyx rug from Room and Board (don't think you got a sample of that one) I remember seeing it in person and really liking it.
