Dear [REDACTED],

The shipper has gone to measure your goods to each store. The cubic amount of your goods is 11,6 m3. Also I am informing that the price per m3 is USD 450 for delivery to Port : Saint Thomas, United States Virgin Islands.

I hope [REDACTED] to pay off at every store including my store because Cargo people can not pick up the goods without payment.

Regards

Benny Bob

Thank you Paola and Benny. When is the shipper scheduled to go to each shop to calculate the price?

Rich, please advice if the price per CBM is acceptable.

Thank you.

Dear [REDACTED],

I have been in communication with Benny via WhatsAp. He informed me the cost for shipping is USD 450 per CBM. The shipper has to go to each Shop to calculate how much CBM. He will let us know and email a formal invoice for this.

Dear Benny,

Please send the quote now, so that we can set the pick-up date in advance for when the furniture is ready.

You said you needed 10 days to produce this order. It has already been 12 days since you received the deposit. How is it possible you need 10 more days?

The other vendors keep asking about the pick-up date. I would appreciate it if you contact Lilyan and explain the delay to her, she had a deadline till the end of this week.

Thank you,
