Its very exciting to see all these emails coming in. I am pretty geared up for everything.

I will have some restaurant menus printed for JE as he requested for him to look at when he arrives, as well as some proposed menus for the up coming breakfast, lunch and dinners.

I will be here tomorrow ready with snacks when he arrives. Should I plan on a light dinner for tomorrow as well? and around what time can I expect JE to be at the house?

[REDACTED] - I know JE likes flowers around the house when he is here and that is usually your thing. Should we have some around tomorrow so there is something here just to get us through till you return on Monday? Is that something we can ask of Lynn? Or I can help out as well...

Hi Francis,

As you already know, this coming week is going to be quite busy at the house in terms of breakfasts, lunch and dinners. JE also is going to have you come to the island from June 10-18th. JE is arriving back in NY tomorrow, Saturday afternoon with [REDACTED]. I will be back Monday evening.
