As long as you have the supplies his guys can do the work. This will not include the shower doors. I think it would be better if I meet with both you and penn and make sure that we are all in agreement as to the scope of work

I'm hoping if Penn's is less than this, JE will be OK with us going with him. I think it's alot easier for all involved to use Penn, and we just have to convince JE that as long as we have all materials, etc, he can finish in 2 weeks. (that's the time frame Penn gave me). Also the tiles I'm ordering for 8H are quite large, 12"x35" so he said that will be alot faster to install.

(still looking for actual sink top, med cabinet and towel bar). How should they proceed with delivering the items if they only deliver curbside? Is there someone who can help bring all the items up to the apt? We will have our painter in the building as well who can help.

I want to be able to present JE with as many as possible and see if they are all along the same price line.
