When do you think I can have everything out of 10F so the flooring people can start work? I will need it completely empty. There is no rush, but JE is hounding me for a time line and I need a realistic estimate from you when you think all will be gone from 10F. I'm hoping to have the desks and chrome drawers picked up on Friday the 8th, then will need someone to take out filing cabinets, etc..
Just need to know what works for you in terms of all your things being gone?
