Yes I have the flight for [REDACTED] on hold, I am going to phone and confirm it now. She is going on AeroSvit on Sunday.

I forwarded Bellas email to [REDACTED] saying that she must add international capability to her existing phone but have not had a response so I will remind her again and say that we cant transfer until we have phone in hand.

I got the dropbox, I havent managed to look at it yet but I want to get to 71st this afternoon to start printing.

I delivered the check to [REDACTED] this morning as after yesterdays confusion it got too late.

I have sent ANthony a message saying I can let the woman in to measure as I am at 301 but havent heard back.

Nothing else exciting...NY is grey and humid and drizzly...

When do you get back?

I want to pack his bag for the possible Ukraine and Africa trip this weekend so I will probably be in touch for your opinion on what to take.

Hey [REDACTED].. just checking in.. did he tell you what to book for [REDACTED] plane ticket to Kiev? [REDACTED] is working on booking her at the Hyatt for 3 nights through Pritzker's office.

Also, does [REDACTED] know to add international capability to her existing phone? I ordered her new phone on line to add to JE's account, but it won't arrive for 3-4 weeks. The transfer won't happen till we have the phone in hand to activate.

Did you get my email with the link from Drop Box with the 3 photos to print out and tape together? Anything else going on I need to know about? Anything new and exciting?
