A couple things:

1. This table is absolutely amazing. 150% worth the investment! Great find & purchase... It will certainly be a conversation piece.
2. The white chairs from the living room fit perfectly (see attached photos). I wouldn't even try to find other chairs. I sat in them, and think it is a comfortable height to play. I'm a bit taller than both of you, so that may not be accurate for you.
3. They did a great job packing. It took a few hours to break it down, and get it set up, but well worth it. Only broken item was a small piece off one of the chess pawns. I superglued the piece back on, and you'd never even notice. I can follow up with them to have them send a new matching one if you'd like? Also, the solitaire game doesn't really match the wood, and appears to be different from the photos. Also, not sure where all the poker chips are supposed to go either. We can investigate when you come back for the first time!

All the best.

Ryan
