Ok thanks. Or maybe Kinkos can scan it in. We just need the first floor. They should have a scanner big enough

Hi [REDACTED] I called atlantic blue print to see if they can put the blue print on a computer CAD file so we can e-mail .I think they are closed today no answer at both locations . I will take the print with me and see if I can get it done tomorrow morning their other shop is out by me in Long Island. RB

Can you scan and email me the plans for the first floor, mainly the entrance way and dining room. I think JE is going to work with another decorator to work on these areas and they are asking for plans to see how the areas flow and connect. Thanks
