How's my baby? We are at the hotel now waiting for them to bring our luggage. I'm called 3 times for it already and they somehow can't seem to find it. I'm getting really really annoyed because I want to go to bed and I'm hungry and tired and stinky. My room is far from everything, so if I want to get anywhere, I can't walk, but have to call for a golf cart driver to come get me. I better not forget anything I want in the room! Pain.
Whatcha doin? How's your day?
