

From: [REDACTED] <[REDACTED]>
To: Story Cowles <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Re:
Date: Fri, 05 Nov 2010 13:05:48 +0000

<http://qasralsarab.anantara.com/>

On Nov 5, 2010, at 8:54 AM, Story Cowles wrote:

> What's the name of the hotel you are staying at?

>

> Sent from Story's iPhone

>

> On Nov 5, 2010, at 5:02 AM, [REDACTED] <[REDACTED]> wrote:

>

>> Good morning my darling. So I'm sitting here in the lobby of the hotel. It's crazy here. Nothing but sand dunes all around us. It's crazy bright and hot outside and I'm forced to wear pants and a long sleeve shirt! Every time you come into the main lobby area, you have to put your bag through an X-ray scanner and go through a metal detector. And everyone here has to wear these badges all the time otherwise security will stop you. Pretty crazy. It's a really nice hotel, but I'm not quite sure why someone would come here for vaca. There's not much to do it seems other than the spa and camel riding. Women aren't allowed to wear bathing suits or shorts at the main pool or in public places. I'm guessing some of the villas have private pools. I have a feeling I will have alot of alone time here..which I don't mind! I'm into my book now and that always gives me something to do thanks to Apples brilliant technology I can read anywhere on my phone ;).

>> I miss you and love you and will talk to you soon. Xxoo

>>

>> <photo.JPG>