Story's apt is ready to be used. There are 2 small closets in the bedroom, so we moved all his clothes into one and put a lock on it, so there is still one empty for guests to use. He left his paintings on the walls and some of his furniture is still there.. side tables in living room and bedroom, a bar, dresser, lamps, TV and speaker system etc.. which he is going to leave there until he returns because it's too much of a hassle to move them out, and I would just have to buy new ones in the meantime.

Since he still has some of his personal furniture there, I'm wondering if we can try to use Story's apt for reputable people we know like the pilots, scientists, etc, if we have the option to choose! and as a last resort put "others" there which will most likely not treat the items with respect (for example putting chewed gum on wooden furniture)

So this being said, Story's apt can definitely be used for one of the pilots on Thursday..

So 10N will be vacated at 8:30am on Thurs. By Thursday Lalasa should be able to get in to the city and have it cleaned by your arrival in the evening.

Sarah, I will email JE about having [REDACTED] move back in to the house Thurs. so we can have cleaned and ready for Larry...

But wondering how the Story's move went also...did Lalasa get that cleaned? Is it ready to go for guests? Let me know about this before I go to JE about [REDACTED] and moving her out of 11B. I want to know all the info before going to JE (cause I'm sure he will ask me why I didn't know!)

Thanks, LEs
