Dear [REDACTED]

As we explain to you in this above mail.
We studied the project of a desk totally adapted to mister Epstein's needs.
Mister Gaguech studied on the possibilities to create different traps to make the keyboard, the screen or the phone disappear. That's what we called home automation.
The desk will hide a sophisticated system of trays, traps.

But we need to know more details about the way how Mister Epstein will use the desk.
Depending Mister Epstein answers, the technical development will take 2 to 3 months and it will start at the reception of the order and the deposit.

We look forward to hearing from you.

Best Regards.

AnMarie

Dear [REDACTED]

The price of the original desk (BURE 5B DPG) we sent to you is 18 000€ and the desk is still available.
The model we propose to Jeffrey, which seems quite similar, is actually totally adapted to his needs and has only his shape.

The new model has (not visible):

- 1- a double tray for all the wire guides.
- 2- Three sophisticated storages for the documents
- 3- a specific lighting system
- 4- The home automation for the keyboard, blackberry and the screen
- 5- Integrated Control system
- 6- Unique Handles, specially created for Jeffrey Epstein.
- 7- Spacer connecting drawers
- 8- The last silent and self close slides

This desk should provide an optimum space, efficient storage and workstation comfort.

All the research and technical specificities are realized only for your one piece.
This model will be produced as an unique masterpiece numerated 1/1 and signed.

We took this opportunity to let you know that Mister Gaguech will be in New York from the 10th to the 15th of May.

Could you let you know also your comments on those project in New York.

Hello!

Jeffrey is wondering how the price for the circular desk , that was quoted as 18 k for the standard, is now so much greater for the new components?

All the best,

Bureau Tardieu,
-Jacques Ruhlmann
(1929)

A la fin des années 1920, Ruhlmann adopte pour ce bureau en laque noire un dessin épuré. Il renonce à la préciosité des matériaux et privilégie les surfaces unies, ce qui accentue le jeu des plans et des lignes. Ce tournant esthétique s'accompagne de techniques : lampe intégrée, corbeille à papier pivotante, repose-pieds/chauffepied avec tableau de commande électrique intégré. Ce bureau est acquis par André Tardieu, alors Président du conseil, puis par le maharajah . Ruhlmann lui-même l'adoptera. (Estimation : de 2 millions à 3 millions .)
