

From: Sarah K <[REDACTED]>
To: Jeffrey Epstein <jeevacation@gmail.com>
Subject: Fwd: (no subject)
Date: Wed, 13 Jul 2011 01:59:26 +0000

FYI..from Larry..

Hi,
well Napa County Airport is the name of the airport we would fly into, its a small airport, direct line from Napa to San Fran is 35nm miles would could translate into 2 hours of driving depending on traffic etc,..that's only a guess, flying 35 miles in the Sanfran area could take long time also, since San Fran is a BUSY airport,.
not sure if it would be better to Land Napa, then we could reposition the plane for our departure, since the dinner is in Sanfran, just a thought,.
San Fran to St. Thomas is not possible, would have to stop in Palm Bch, its running 7+30 min flight time, with head wind of -5kts, which is very unusual heading in that dirction, its summer,..no jet stream,.
what airport are we landing in Seattle, last time we landed Boeing Field, not main airport in Seattle, let me know?
thx