

Graydon

You should confirm with Vicky Ward that she said to both Ghislaine and me, on different occasions, that it is her responsibility to print all allegations that she hears, and it is up to Ghislaine or me to deny on them on the record.

You should know that printing stories which she knows to be untrue or has a doubt about is very wrong and is defamatory. In fact Vicky has continued to be extremely negligent, and even today continues to make statements that she knows are false.

Today I was asked to provide the transfer taxes for [REDACTED] the house next to mine, but she has not bothered to ask if I ever owned the property. This is goofy.

With regard to Ghislaine, hopefully a response is not still required, but is if it is Ghislaine's response is "Ghislaine categorically denies that any such thing happened and deplors the unjustifiable prototypical journalistic irresponsibility of Vicky Wards questions"
