You left a message for Mark and me regarding insufficient drawings for the helicopter. In response, please know that Keystone needs to have their own renderings done and approved in order to fully price out the interiors. It is not that they have enough information from Zeff.

There is an issue with the design, however, regarding the side of the seat on the rear, forward-facing bench. Keystone is having difficulties creating the detail of the side by the window where one would lean ones head that will pass FAA regulations. Keystone will come up with solutions and present them to us.

Zeff Design has been in constant contact with Keystone throughout this project, particularly since Mark and I visited their shop and will continue to be in constant contact with them throughout the project.
