Ghislaine!

Hi there. I've been working lately as hard as I used to when I was in a big firm: Grand Jury, trial coming up, writing an appeal, interviewing for the Hiring Committee (I was in Boston on Friday doing that). It's all good, and all fun, but a lot is happening at once.

Come see me when you're in our Offices. I'll give you a tour and buy you lunch.

Break a leg in Dallas.

By the way, I'm not cold at all. It's good to have a real winter finally.

> Hey thought you might be missing me by now. + thought I might make you a little jealous as I am in the Carribean. Not too cold are you?

> I am going to Dallas next week to train w/the helicopter and will be back the week after. From Dallas to your office soemtime that week to meet w/ a Mr Price re the art work I told you about. I'll let you know when I am going and hopefully you will be there so I can come and see where you work - or maybe you will be in court and I can go and see you there
