Dear Miss Maxwell, Hope you had a good weekend. Site meeting number 14 is what i believe you want to know each week. Attached also is a progress claim report. Also i would let you know percentage wise how the construction is progressing, for example, excavation 90% complete, demolition 20%, bricklaying, concrete, carpentry, roof, doors, windows, ceilings, floorings. electrical, plumbing, tiling, built-ins, joinery, vanities, painting etc. Could you please send my last email back as i didnt get to save the weekly house report. I have been on a lot of building sites and understand construction very well. My last fealance job was the end construction of a 26000sq house on Long Island. Please let me know if you require any more information. All the best. Brett.
