Jabber, Inc. Appoints Isabel Maxwell to Board Of Directors; Internationally Renowned Technology Executive to Help Direct Corporate Growth Strategies

DENVER--(BUSINESS WIRE)--March 30, 2004--Jabber, Inc., a leading commercial provider of presence and messaging solutions for enterprises, operators and OEMs, today announced that its Board of Directors has confirmed the appointment of Isabel Maxwell as an independent member of its Board.

Isabel Maxwell is an early pioneer of the Portal space and a seasoned executive in growing enterprise software companies. Most recently, Ms. Maxwell was CEO of Puresight, Inc., a growing private content filtering company. She was President of Commtouch Software (CTCH) from 1997-2001, the messaging and anti-spam company, and was instrumental in taking Commtouch Software successfully public on the Nasdaq in 1999 and helping it grow to a 460 employee global company. While at Commtouch, Ms. Maxwell was awarded with the Albert Einstein Technology Medal, which salutes the vanguard of the high tech industry and honors the spirit of enterprise and initiative. Past honorees of this award have included Lady Margaret Thatcher, Steven Spielberg and Dr. Henry Kissinger.

With over 25 years of management and editorial experience in both the online corporate world and in traditional media, she was selected as one of the World Economic Forum's 100 Technology Pioneers for 2001. Ms. Maxwell was co-founder and senior executive in 1992 of the pioneering directory and search engine portal, the Magellan Online Guide that she sold to Excite in '96. She has consulted for several leading private equity investment firms, including Apax Partners, Pitango and JVP, assisting their portfolio companies in business development, media and marketing, in Israel, Europe and the U.S. French-born and British educated, Ms. Maxwell holds Honor Moderations in Jurisprudence and a B.A./M.A. in History & French from Oxford University.

"There is no doubt that Isabel will prove to be a valued addition to the Company's Board of Directors. Her noted experience in helping innovative technology companies establish industry leadership has earned her international distinction and the respect of the global Internet community. We are pleased to welcome her to the Jabber, Inc. team and look forward to capitalizing on her knowledge, resources and ideas to aggressively advance and execute the company's growth strategies," noted Bill Cullen, a member of Jabber, Inc.'s Board of Directors and CEO of Webb Interactive Services, a stakeholder in Jabber, Inc.
