Phil went to have a look at lunchtime - he said that it was like a steam room in there as the shower was running. He has switched it off - and fiddled with it - it now works (as well as it ever did). I can come to London tomorrow if you want me to - I can get the train up after dropping the kids at school - I would be with you by about 10.30 - 10.45ish. I know you have your first massage booked for 11am but if Ted was going first and you were free it would be great to see you and catch up with all your travels - if you were going first then I could just chat to Ted You cannot keep me hidden away for ever - I'm not that fat and ugly!!!! Let me know Kx
