Good Morning Mr. Epstein and staff,

I am respectfully writing to you and your foundation for support in the venture in the delivery of mental healthcare through telemedicine. We would like to submit a proposal for funding to improve the delivery of services through a private encrypted service to protect patient privacy. This would include specific computer hardware, servers and website developer's. We would appreciate guidance associated with the marketing of these services nationally.

We currently deliver mental health care through a telemedicine system that is a partner. The delivery of mental health care has been perfected over the years to a point that is now professional, effective and rapidly available to persons in need of mental health care. Online services are now covered by many health care insurance plans. In Washington State mental health care online is covered through Medicaid and Medicare reducing gaps in care to those in remote locations or unable to leave home due to disability.

My personal education includes a masters's in psychiatric nursing and a [REDACTED] in clinical health psychology. I have developed protocols for the delivery of telemental healthcare in various speciality areas.

Our rationale for writing the Jeffery Epstein VI Foundation is simple; Mr. Epstein's foundation supports innovation in health, science, education and technology. We respect his contributions to the progression of industry through technology. Our company would benefit from your guidance in marketing and specific technological innovation requiring financial investment. By supporting this model of mental healthcare delivery the foundation mission will continue to impact social change.

Through your support we can facilitate the delivery of mental health care on a national bases. As mental health care providers we are acutely aware of the shame often felt by persons in need of mental health services and ameliorate that shame through providing private sessions in the security of the persons home environment. We can provide rapid response associated with crisis to persons that may travel frequently limiting their time for traditional face to face sessions in a brick and mortar setting.

Mental health care is an important factor for all human beings to function in society. As providers we understand developmental milestones of a person can be easily derailed in the face of trauma limiting personal growth throughout ones lifespan. It is my sincere hope that Mr. Epstein support our goal to make mental health care safe, protected and effective through telemedicine portals.

Please inform us as to how we might proceed. The help of your foundation is vital to our provision of mental healthcare through technology.

Professionally,

Cynthia Sambataro
