

From: Amy Cassell <[REDACTED]>

To: Jeffrey Epstein <jeevacation@gmail.com>

Subject: Maharajah Desk

Date: Tue, 09 Sep 2014 19:10:41 +0000

Attachments: L1040258.jpg; L1040300.jpg; L1040547.jpg; L1040548.jpg; L1040835.jpg;
Maharaja_Desk.JPG

Dear Jeffrey,

I spoke with Frank Pollaro about the Maharajah Desk...he had the great opportunity to see and document the original desk that Ruhlmann made for the Maharajah...see attached photographs from the auction...

It is a very interesting desk, not only the shape...but all of the details...integrated inkwells and "in-boxes" (the idea being you could work on top of your paperwork, but still see it thru the glass), integrated desk lamp, foot rest and waste paper basket...plus the beautiful hardware and tambour cabinet...we could go even further for "today" and integrate specific items for you as well (glasses, phone, etc.)

Depending on how much you want to authentically replicate all of the original details, the desk could be anywhere from $50K (simplified) to $220K (with all of the original/new details).

Frank has a version of this desk in his shop, if you think we'll have time on Saturday it would be great to visit his shop to see the piece in person. He can make himself available on Saturday at anytime to us, 20 miles from the city in NJ, 30 minute drive.

Look forward to your thoughts,
Amy