Hi je!

Well, after about a week of staying up all night to finish our first round of tables, we finally did it. See attached images...(but please don't show anyone). Now, I'd love to reschedule our business meeting. Would next week work for like an hour?

Basically, I want to show you other images and discuss your network as well as some investment opportunities with you. I was thinking that something like this could be mutually beneficial, to be honest. We could use funding for sure, but it might be a good move for you to be on the board of a woman owned and run engineering boutique. Plus we are science oriented and cool. We are about to do a bunch of press around our launch and we could mention it. I'd be happy to have you explicitly associated. I know you think that "doing what I want" isn't the straight path to making millions....but I think it's my best chance. Especially because I am so good at doing what I want to do (grin).

Let me know your thoughts.
