The California person - actually it's great she lives on the west coast 3000 miles away

I invested in - what started off to be one horse - has grown into a expensive hobby - but keep her from breaking my balls - except for the excessive phone calls - consistently listening to crap about horses - I can't stand the calls - as short as they are - they are still a pain

Any ideas on how to get out of the call loop or suck it up as its part of the trap I'm in ?

Call after u have some ideas - when your free
