Were Palestinians the Only People Who Became Refugees as a Result of the Arab-Israeli Conflict?

Myths & Facts: 2012

Although much is heard about the plight of the Palestinian Refugees, little is said about the Jews who fled from Arab states. Their situation had long been precarious. During the 1947 UN debates, Arab leaders threatened them. For example, Egypt's delegate told the General Assembly: "The lives of one million Jews in Muslim countries would be jeopardized by partition."

The number of Jews fleeing Arab countries for Israel in the years following Israel's independence was nearly double the number of Arabs leaving Palestine. Many Jews were allowed to take little more than the shirts on their backs.

Islamists: "Destruction is a Matter of Time"

What makes negotiations with Iran, ISIS, Hamas or any other Islamist group impossible is that their leaders believe they are acting according to the immutable word of God. America, Israel, other Muslims with whom they disagree, cannot do anything to satisfy them except "submit" (the Arabic word "Islam" means "submission").

As Egyptian cleric Muhammad Huseein Ya'qub said in a televised sermon in 2009, "If the Jews left Palestine to us, would we start loving them? Of course not. The Jews are infidels not because I say so but because Allah does...They aren't our enemies because they occupy Palestine, they would be our enemies even if they had not occupied anything."
