Hi Rich,

Sorry forgot to get back with soon. My doctor called me up and told me that my MRI came normal! Still need to make a follow up appointment this Wed. And ask him where is the pain coming from. I will ask for more test because my neck and my back is been tight and painful on and off don't know if that the cause of my headache. Still seeing my Chiropractor every weekends just to reallign my spine. I will be more aware on my health after what happen to my sister. I guess health problem start in 40's ha ha

Don't worry I will let you know if something came up. I'll probably ask my doctor if I need to do more MRI for my neck and back to find out more or order for blood test. Thank you so much for the concern. I'm okey I'll keep working while I can.

I know you and Mr Epstein asking about me and my family transition. Still don't know. My husband still working hard and keep visiting us in the weekends. It's not easy but we have to succrifice because of the job. He still stay in hotel for over 2 yrs now. We plan to put our house in the market once we upgrade the house. Right now it's so tight, we have to wait. We love this house so much It's not easy to start over again. I will keep working for Mr Epstein until I'm here or maybe even When we move. Will see. Thank you so much for thrusting me until this time. I appreciate everything. Many thanks to Mr Epstein.

Thanks Rich! My doctor order for my head MRI on Friday to make sure I have no problem after my Chiropractor helping me to reallign my spine and neck for being twisted from childhood.

I plan to come to work this morning but I got dizzy again. On my off last week been going to My Chiropractor and massage therapy on my neck and lower back I was ok then Sunday start getting dizzy and had headache again. I just want to make sure i have no problem on my head. I'll keep you posted my doctor said it's from my neck the cause of headache but I ask him to order for MRI just to make sure.

I'll be coming to work tomorrow. Thank you for your concern. I really appreciated it so much.
