Unlimited access to The times. The ultimate educational supplement.

With the new school year fast approaching, this is the time to consider sponsoring a student subscription to The New York Times.

For a limited time, The Times will match your contribution not once, but twice.

Here's how it works

 Make a contribution - for every $3 you contribute, one public school student will receive access to The Times.

 Triple your impact - For a limited time, we'll match your contribution twice.

 For students and educators - Instill in students a lifelong appreciation of independent, fact-based news, and aspire teachers with access to The Times Learning Network.

My daily practice of reading The NYTimes began nearly 40 years ago...

Remember, if you contribute today, we'll double our matching contribution, to bring The Times to even more public schools across the country.
