First two from a pool fountain I designed ,only the tiles are old from an antic shop here.

Third one is drawing of a Hamam.

4 th is a reception area drawing,

5th and 6 th facades of two different houses I designed,one is more Turkish inspired the other is more Moorish.

To give you an idea how I work. Most architects use draughtsman for their drawings whereas I do all my drawings myself.All the geometrically complicated details are first drawn on a paper and than produced by sculpturing technics using plaster carved models and moulds.I keep my architectural mouldings in order to form a collection.To be displayed to public one day.

Best regards
