Our 15th Anniversary Sale-ebraction

This Saturday marks the 15th anniversary of the release of Audio Hijack 1.0 and the start of Rogue Amoeba. We've had an amazing decade and a half so far, and it's been possible thanks to the support of customers like you. We want to celebrate our birthday by helping to solve even more of the world's audio problems. To do this, we're offering big discounts on our entire product line for the next six days.

If you've been considering purchasing any of our apps, this is a great (and rare) chance to save a massive 20% to 60% off our everyday low prices. See our blog post for more details, or just visit the sale page now. Be sure to act fast, because this sale ends when September does!

Of course, as a member of this list, you likely already own some of our audio apps. If you're all set, great! Please accept our deep appreciation for your part in our first 15 years! Maybe tell your friends about us? :)

Get Updates for MacOS 10.13 \(High Sierra\)

Apple is shipping MacOS 10.13 (High Sierra) today, and we're fully updated for compatibility. Each of our apps has initial support for the new operating system, so we're ready to make the leap to High Sierra with you.

Get the latest versions by selecting "Check for Update" inside each of our apps. Users of our Instant On extra should also be sure to update via the "Install Extras" window in Airfoil, Audio Hijack, Nicecast, or Piezo.

Introducing SoundSource 3

Long-time Rogue Amoeba fans may remember our retired SoundSource and LineIn freebies, but did you know we recently brought them back in a single well-designed app? Read about the release of SoundSource 3, our menu bar-based sound control.

Best of all, if you own a current version of any Rogue Amoeba app, you can get a complimentary license for SoundSource. Who doesn't love a free gift? Visit our site to learn all about SoundSource.

Airfoil Has Full Apple TV Compatibility

When Apple released tvOS 10.2, it temporarily broke Airfoil's ability to stream audio to the Apple TV. We worked hard to restore this functionality, and that work has continued with updates for full compatibility with tvOS 11 as well.

Rest assured, Airfoil for Mac can now stream audio to any and all Apple TVs, and we'll always strive to make sure that's the case. As long as you're using the latest Airfoil for Mac, you'll be in good shape.

Wrapping Up

We're nearly 3/4ths of the way through 2017, but this is actually our first email of the year. We often include a review of the previous year, but at this point, I'll simply direct you to our blog summary of 2016. Give it a read to see what you might have missed last year.

To keep up with future Rogue Amoeba news:

- Read our blog.
- Follow us on Twitter.
- Like us on Facebook
- NEW! Follow Rogue Amoeba on Instagram.

And don't forget, our anniversary sale ends very soon, so don't wait to check it out!

As always, thanks for reading, and stay tuned for more!
Paul & the entire Rogue Amoeba Team
