My Dear André,

As told today, please find attached my resume for the position as private assistant for your friend. I have always been interested in dealing with this kind of job.

In my current position as PA to the director of Total SA Mergers & acquisitions, I am used to work in a high-pressure environment where accuracy and attention to details are essential. I am responsible for coordinating all the teams and attending to all of the administrative needs. This role requires a high degree of professionalism, maturity, loyalty, confidentiality and the ability to communicate at all levels effectively. I pride myself on my ability to deal with pressure and multi-task with a positive and flexible attitude.

I'm proactive and I always aim at going above and beyond my set duties to make sure the best systems are in place so that the actual life and business of your friend could work as efficiently as possible. I think that the difference between something good and something great is attention to details.

Hope to see you quickly in Paris,

Warm best,

Maxime
