Bernhard et al

here it is all we have to do is take one sideways X-ray of a woman's 3rd lumbar region or maybe the rest of the hip to get the degree of curvature they think is optimal note that Nigerian women have the shortest inter birth interval of any women, so they should be more strongly selected for this "cock up botty" trait—hence never mind you caressing [REDACTED] behind, tho was never going to be consistent with your later survival, one sideways X-ray will be our next best bet and it should be good enough what do you say

yet another project we can do before the genetics
