I will look into this. We removed all the references a long time ago from the site, and what you sent isn't something I wrote, but something John wrote or copied? Anyway, will look into it first thing in morning and do a search on you and Wesley, find all references, and get them pulled if they are on any other sites...

Can we talk about island tomorrow. Had a good talk and meeting with pablos about it today...

Cheers

Jeffrey Epstein

Jeffrey Epstein isn't just a money manager but a science philanthropist at the same time. He at present serves as the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Financial Trust Company. He became the Trustee of the Institute of International Education, Inc. last 2001. Jeffrey Epstein's financial investment profession began with the firm of Bear Stearns. His major was in physics.

Mr. Jeffrey Epstein is likewise on the Council on Foreign Relations and is as Member of the Trilateral Commission. He had been a former Board Member of Rockefeller University as well as being currently affiliated with the New York Academy of Science.

Jeffrey Epstein Foundation, the Wexner Foundation, The COUQ Foundation along with the Florida Science Foundation are handful of Jeffrey's philanthropic affiliations. Edge Foundation is among the group Jeffrey is associated with which members are excellent thinkers and achievers.

Established in 1988, the Edge Foundation, nonprofit private operating foundation, grew out of an organization known as the Reality Club, a loosely based group includes of some of the most interesting minds globally. The Edge Foundation stated purpose is to promote discussion of, and inquiry into, philosophical, literary and artistic issues and to work for social and intellectual achievements in society.

Its mandate is to promote the society intellectual and social achievement through inquiry, discussion of intellectual, philosophical, artistic and literary issues along with work. All contributors to Edge support the original copyright to their work while permitting the Edge to electronic use of their work.

Mr. Jeffrey Epstein is actively engaging and serving the Theoretical Biology Initiative at the Institute for Advanced Study, the Santa Fe Institute and the Quantum Gravity Program at the University of Pennsylvania. Additionally, Mr. Jeffrey Epstein serves as a member of the Mind, Brain & Behavior Advisory Committee at Harvard University.

Currently, Jeffrey Epstein's passion for generosity is concentrated on scientific thought and achievement. Over the last decade Mr. Epstein has donated over $100 million in grants and funding in support of both individual scientists and academic institutions.

Mr. Jeffrey Epstein will be playing host to the approaching Mind shift Conference on his exclusive island in the Caribbean this January. The Conference will assemble together probably the most brilliant thinkers and notable scientific minds to talk about, debate and dig into advanced thinking processes and scientific frontiers.

This decade, Jeffrey Epstein has decided to have a more visible role in his philanthropic efforts, after a period as a behind the scenes source of funding. A sort of support for the science like Mr. Epstein's two websites has aided and developed these efforts: at JeffreyEpsteinScience.com and JeffreyEpstein.org. He is encouraged and pumped up about the feedback from the scientific community of such recent announcements.
