Will your job be automated ?

How will you and your organisation prepare for an accelerating future?

How will we make the transition to Human Intelligence 2.0?

Learn the skills that robots cannot learn at Creative Innovation 2017 Asia Pacific, the premiere conference for anyone who cares about creativity, innovation, leadership, change and transformation.

Automation isn't going to affect some workers, but ... every worker. Australia should double its pace of artificial intelligence and robotics automation to reap a $2.2 trillion opportunity by 2030, while also urgently preparing to support more than 3 million workers whose jobs may be at risk, according to a new report.

Join us at Ci2017 to understand and make the most of the exponential advances in robotics, artificial intelligence, automation of jobs and vehicles, healthcare, energy, workplaces and cities of the future and other major trends. You will join with directors, leaders and emerging talent from many of Australia's and the world's major organisations, State and Federal Government departments, Universities and entrepreneurs across all sectors.

Don't miss the world class line-up of visionary innovators, futurists and leaders that are gathering at Ci2017 to help us better understand and prepare for our rapidly changing world. This event will help you upgrade yourself and your organisation to Intelligence 2.0. It will give you the knowledge and tools to develop the agility and leadership mindset you need to transform your organisation.
