

From [REDACTED]

To: Jeffrey Epstein <jeevacation@gmail.com>

Subject: Reputation management

Date: Fri, 25 Oct 2013 15:28:57 +0000

Attachments: ARCTIC_Int_V1_ORIM.pdf; ARCTIC_ORIM_Brochure.pdf

---

Dear Jeffrey

Browse in this it's interesting how they can manage reputation

Sent from my iPhone

Begin forwarded message:

From: KS [REDACTED]

Date: October 25, 2013 at 7:18:45 PM GMT+4

To: [REDACTED] Sultan Bin Sulaim [REDACTED]

Subject: Fwd: OIRM Brochure

Dear Sultan,

I would like to take this opportunity to introduce you to our service and area of expertise in Online Reputation Management.

You may well have realised whilst browsing the internet that many levels of information - good, bad or indifferent - can find its way to the top of the results list in association with either yourself, your clients or businesses. Public search engines such as Google and Yahoo are governed by The Freedom of Information Act (2000) which allows the public to upload any information about you, provided of course it is backed up legitimately and is not defamatory.

We have devised a proven method by which the subjects of online searches, whether individuals or businesses, can influence the order and priority of the information about them which exists on the World Wide Web.

So do not let a simple web search get in the way of a deal or dampen your reputation any longer. Let us manage your online profile so affiliates, clients and interested parties see you in the best light from the start. Please take a look at the brochure I have attached to this email which outlines the features of our service and do not hesitate to get in touch for more information.

I urge you to look upon our service as an essential part of public relations efforts and I would be more than happy to talk you through the process.

Best regards
Ketan

