 Speakers

Automation isn't going to affect some workers, but ... every worker. Australia should double its pace of artificial intelligence and robotics automation to reap a $2.2 trillion opportunity by 2030, while also urgently preparing to support more than 3 million workers whose jobs may be at risk, according to a new report.

This session will help you understand and make the most of the exponential advances in robotics, artificial intelligence, automation of jobs and vehicles, healthcare, energy, workplaces and cities of the future and other major trends. Plenary 2 will feature:

- Raymond McCauley (USA), Scientist, engineer & entrepreneur;
Chair of the Biotech Track at Singularity University
Engineering DNA for a Better You – Brilliance, Brawn, and Being
- Svetha Venkatesh, Director, Centre for Pattern Recognition and Data Analytics (PRaDA) at Deakin University
Close Encounters with Machine Learning
- Neil Harbisson (USA), Artist, Cyborg Activist & Cybernetics Expert
The Renaissance of our Species
