Hello,

The year of Google Paid Storage for jeevacation@gmail.com is almost up! Paid Storage gives you extra quota in Google services like Picasa Web Albums and Gmail.

The account is currently set to auto-renew for an additional year. Your Google Checkout account will be automatically charged on Apr 2, 2011. You might want to log in and make sure your default credit card information is up-to-date, so everything goes smoothly.

If you do not wish to renew, please have the account holder visit the account management page and downgrade to the Basic Plan.

We'd like to take this opportunity to thank you for choosing Google. We're looking forward to continuing to work with you in the coming year. For additional questions, please contact our help center. Please do not respond to this email as replies are not monitored.

Best Regards,

The Google Storage Team
