In this new series covering the major issues of the day our first Sunday morning Briefing will focus on Israel and the Middle East.

Since publishing the New York Times bestseller My Promised Land to enormous acclaim in 2014, Israeli journalist and writer Ari Shavit has become renowned for his urgent and fearless political analysis of the Middle East. His commentary on the issues facing Israel, including terrorism, settlements, a possible two-state solution and negotiations with Iran are considered some of the most astute from any writer today, whilst his mesmerising storytelling make him a must-see speaker. At the How To Academy he will talk about some of the challenges and opportunities currently facing Israel, and offer a global insight into the forces shaping the Middle East today.

Ari Shavit is a leading Israeli columnist and writer. Born in Rehovot, Israel, Shavit served as a paratrooper in the IDF and studied philosophy at the Hebrew University in Jerusalem. In the early 1990s he was Chairperson of the Association for Civil Rights in Israel, and in 1995 he joined Haaretz, where he serves on the editorial board. He is married, has a daughter and two sons, and lives in Kfar Shmaryahu.
