Now that Cassell has said the claims are truthful, we could deny them, but we still need to consider whether this would further a media battle you will not win (eg they could float her settlement, we could say it was dictated by NPA, etc), wall st journal article more about alan than you, british press probably more about Andrew. I will maintain silence from media unless you have any new thoughts. Will have a working draft of letter to you either early tonite or early in morning.
