

From: Kitt Hirasaki <kitth@khanacademy.org>

To: [REDACTED]

Subject: You got us to 2 billion

Date: Mon, 28 Apr 2014 09:44:35 +0000

jeevacation,

Together we've answered 2 BILLION math problems on Khan Academy. "Billion," with a "B!" Way to go, team!

Now we're thinking, "Could we go even faster?" So, a challenge for you: Can you help get us to 10 BILLION by this time next year?

Try a problem

Here's one to whet your appetite:

How many problems would each of our 13 million students need to do per week to answer 8 billion more problems within the next year?

(Round to the nearest whole number, and assume the number of students doesn't grow, though we're sure hoping it does!)

Did you figure out our appetizer? Now try a problem and help us reach 10 billion.

Kitt Hirasaki

Designer at Khan Academy and non-trivial contributor to the 2 billion answered problems

PO Box 1630, Mountain View, CA 94042

If you'd prefer not to receive these big announcements from us, please unsubscribe here.

P.S. Help us reach 10 billion -- tackle a problem on Khan Academy!

