[REDACTED] not whining, [REDACTED] trying to find solutions with you in order to get out of my situation. I am working hard and as [REDACTED] telling you working in a restaurant is not in my field of interest but [REDACTED] doing it because I've got no other choice. When I worked at Coste I quit because the atmosphere was awful, full of prostitutes and not very discrete. I've found a job in another restaurant smaller where [REDACTED] actually working hard. [REDACTED] also continuing to babysit. None of these 2 jobs are in my field of interest, financially gratifying or intellectually stimulating. So since [REDACTED] working hard with zero satisfaction [REDACTED] like to understand what is the outcome from this.

You've always told me that I should learn from my mistakes so now [REDACTED] doing a job that pays telling you that it leads to no personal growth and [REDACTED] asking you what should I do next in order to grow and your answer is that it's too late and then you ask me to find you escort girls. How am I supposed to learn ??? What's too late about being in my early 20's and wanting to learn ??
