Hi Jeffrey,

I'm in the process of finishing these drawings (attached), by this afternoon, (right now here is 2:03 AM) I will include location and zones descriptions,

I thought you received my email, attached below?

We can have a conference call by tomorrow night, I can describe them more in detail the basic sketch up (in green with the contours) the black and white aerial perspective base on this sketch up, overall Island plan)

Regards

Hi Jeffrey, I'm working right now, on the overall master plan and a black and white aerial perspective, from the North side of the island (looking as far as we can)

This overall aerial perspective together with the master plan zones will describe all the components of your Island house

Thanks for your comments

Thx , first s mater plan for island needed. Now it looks as if the beginning of a house z the island is the house . Thoughts on places , views etc roads back of house , service security docks . It should not look like a house being built on 2 acres but a island complex

Here are two new renderings Black and White for your review and comments

After the front page

The first images is a sketch up a software that we use to scale the volumes of the house with reference to the contours

The second is an aerial black and white

The third is the same but with a green color (wash) to help differentiate the house from the landscape

The fourth is a black and white perspective rendering with a view that is looking from the beach

The fifth is the same drawings that we sent you before and that we are using to developed the renderings (or your reference only)

Still awaiting for any of your comments or concerns

Regards
