What are Trump and Netanyahu's options to 'fix or nix' the Iran nuclear deal?

By Sean Savage/JNS.org

In his first address to the United Nations General Assembly Tuesday, President Donald Trump made a forceful case against Iran's behavior in the Middle East and the merits of the 2015 nuclear deal negotiated by his predecessor Barack Obama.

Liberal choice: honor Obama's legacy or get tough with Iran?

By Jonathan Tobin/JNS.org

Is there anything that would entice liberal Jews to stand with President Donald Trump or to join with him in trashing former President Barack Obama's legacy?

Will pro-BDS professors benefit from Tel Aviv University's new 'anti-BDS' fund?

By Rafael Medoff/JNS.org

Tel Aviv University (TAU) is asking American Jews to contribute to a new fund to ensure that its faculty members “won’t be harmed by BDS.” But in an ironic twist, it appears that the handful of TAU professors who support BDS could benefit from the fund too.

The Jewish calendar year's inspiring newsmakers

By Jacob Kamaras/JNS.org

Judaism’s High Holidays are a time for prayer, introspection and for those fortunate enough, inspiration. Amid the headlines on terrorism and political disputes, some prominent newsmakers in the Israel and Middle East scene gave us something to smile about or admire during this past year. Ahead of Rosh Hashanah, JNS.org spotlights high-profile individuals who made a positive difference—sometimes in unexpected ways—during the Jewish calendar year of 5777.
