Dear Friends of Poetry in America,

May 10, 2016 | Newsletter

We are excited to announce that our website is now live! Our amazing team at Threespot worked tirelessly to design this new website and brand for us.

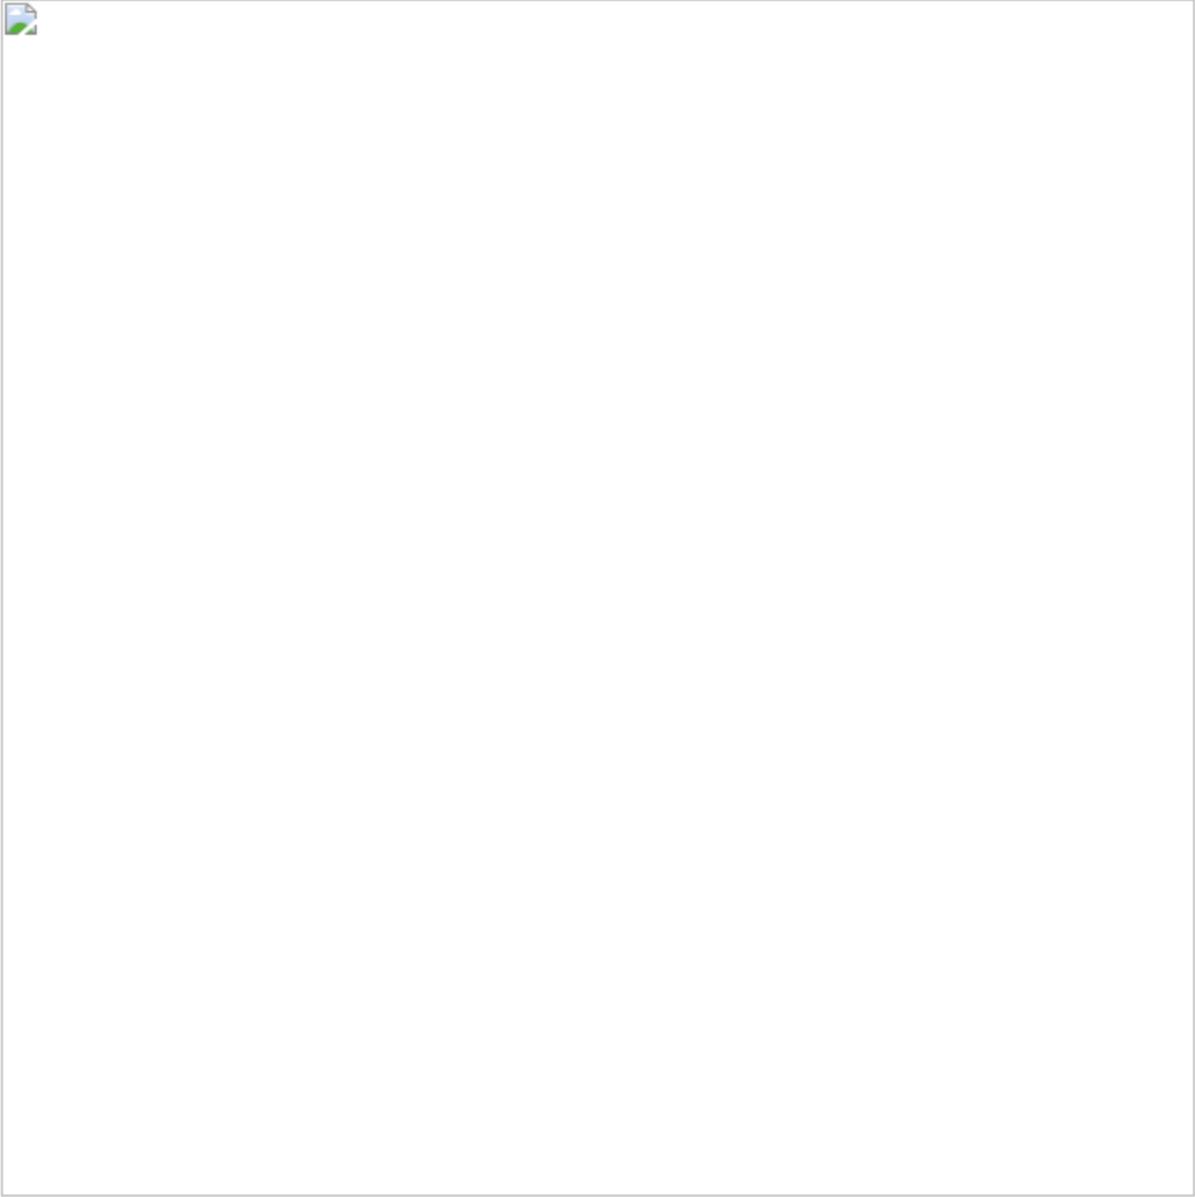

The Poetry in America site is your hub for information on all of our current projects, including our:

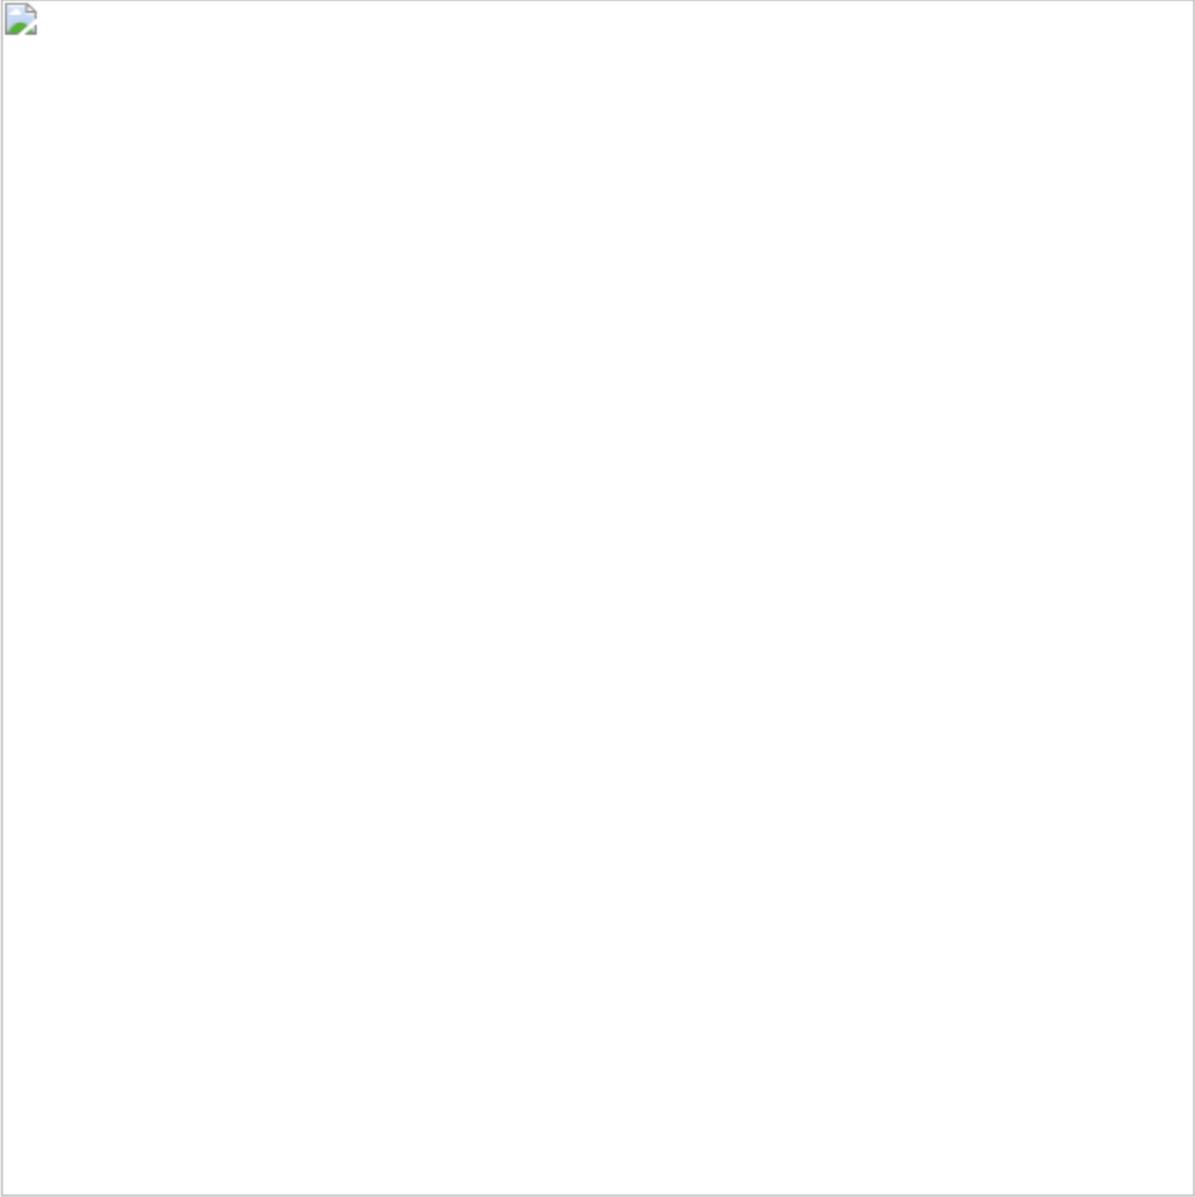

- WGBH television series in production
- HarvardX MOOC
- For-credit sequence of courses on the history of American poetry
- Suite of Poetry in America courses designed especially for K-12 teachers

From the Poetry in America website, you can learn more about our mission to bring poetry into living rooms and classrooms around the world. Meet our staff, partners, and funders. Check out our blog to explore our production process, our featured guests, our emerging partnerships, and press coverage of Poetry in America.

Thank you for your support!
