Ok. Talked to him. Some of the questions were stupid and I told him so. He was earnest but ignorant. So we'll see

Ok. I just spoke to him to ask him what it is all about and he told me your lawyers told him to talk to me. He wants to do a story on your support of science etc. I told him I had to check with you first. He seems above board and was up front and frank. So I will call him back now and expand upon your interest and support of science, ideas, education.
