Talked to Sami -- he says that he specifically asked the guys if they wanted to sell it and they said now way. But he says he has been getting calls from brokers asking him the same thing: are you trying to sell 15 east 81st? He said 2 east 63 and 15 east 81 are unique because of their width -- ie 60 feet or so for 15 east 81. And he says if the record for a town house in NYC were to be broken it would be one of those two houses. Didn't mention yours though. I bet he is protecting himself -- probably put out a few calls and then the owners, seeing the skyrocketing prices, decided to pull back.

Where are you for New Years?
