Sounds good. As soon as it goes live in these locations I'm sending signals to get Google Bot to pick it up as fast as possible. Keep sending over any major sites that are pointing to the Forbes article...

I'm currently getting coverage on 5-6 smaller business and tech sites for the Forbes article and reinforcing our other rankings. Huffington still in progress but should get done in the next 4-6 days I believe.

PS - Google took a stab at Mugshot websites over the last week and I'm thinking I can use this angle to convince Business Insider to take down the image they are hosting. Working on it..

Jeffrey please let me know if you have any questions/concerns.
