Jeffrey,

Attached is hopefully the final revision.

Changes made include the entertainment system and the "cancellation" of Option 18.

I can not spend any more time on the entertainment system quoting, so

Estimated labor:	246 labor hours
Estimated material cost:	$10,830
Estimated Engineering and certification cost:	$ 9,500

Estimated profit labor & materials:	$ 9,438
-------------------------------------	----------

The reality of entertainment systems is that there will be labor over runs on the wiring and structural installation that will reduce the "estimated" profit margin to what hopefully will be a $7,500 profit.

I can not be any more honest and transparent than this. If you have connections that can get my daughter Rachel into the University of Michigan, then I would happily reduce the cost of the entertainment system by $7,500.
