Special request

Ask you lawyer Lilly Ann Sanchez (Fowler White) to advise "Chuck" [REDACTED] and "Paul" [REDACTED] that Rob Buschel (my lawyer) is immediately excluded from the subpoena previously issued. Basically that under no circumstances is any information or data to be released about him.

The cool thing is this will REALLY piss Chuck and Paul off LOL. They simply won't understand why Rob is "special". And will force Chuck to ask him. To which Rob will tell them "There are SOME people that understand that some information should be considered private" (which is the bases of our case with them).

In reality, Rob had little to nothing to do with your case, and all the stuff he did will be handed over by the others in the case anyway, so your legal team won't be losing any data or anything. Otherwise I would not have asked this.

Thank you for being willing to do this. It is one of those subtle "fuck you" we can send towards Berger Singerman.

If you ever need me to check on someone, keep in mind I used to do due diligence work for companies like Kleiner Perkins, mostly I was asked to confirm if companies were full of crap.
