Jeffrey

I received this email from Scott Stambaugh from Stambaugh Aviation in Brunswick GA., Our maintenance shop;

Do you approve of me sending photos and what price should I offer?

See email below that has buyers aviation Mx person name and email address.,

Larry,

I had a customer here from the DR Congo the other day. They have a 707 VIP and a 727 VIP aircraft and I am providing them maintenance quotes etc... They are interested in purchasing some 727 freighters from Cargojet one of my other customers. They did ask to tour your aircraft when I told them it was for sale (I mentioned the engines were fresh from shop, great shape the aux tanks have all been completely redone etc... I did mention the asking price was around 4 million.

They are requesting to see some pictures and specs to show the boss because they are interested in the possibility of purchasing it. From being around them they don't mind spending good money, but they want to get what they pay for.

I want to send an introductory e-mail to you and to Zacharie so you can exchanging information etc... and then you guys can deal directly.

Zacharie,

Allow me to introduce you to Larry Visoski, he is with JEGE and can discuss the sale of the 727 (908JE) that you saw at my facility.

Larry this is Zacharie Nankwaya, he is the Technical Manager for DRC Presidential Aviation and is interested in discussing the possible purchase of the 72.

Zacharie,

We are getting very close to finalizing the HF system pricing and should be submitting a formal quote on it in a few days. We are now starting the Universal UNS-1 installation proposal and would like to get some pictures of the cockpit so we can look at the layout. We would want the front panels as well as the center pedestal.
